

Bringing more to the vision care experience

Changing lifestyles and budgets have had a big impact on eye care needs, which is why UnitedHealthcare Vision® offers a more flexible, holistic experience. Beyond controlling cost, the plans prioritize member choice, engagement and enhancements with the aim of delivering better overall health outcomes and greater value.

A holistic view of vision

- A large, balanced network for greater provider access
- A broad choice of locations, hours, styles and price points
- Integrated data that may help identify other medical conditions
- Cost-saving bundling options and eyewear discounts
- An enhanced benefit for those who have diabetes or are pregnant, children up to age 19 and others who may have frequent vision changes

The choice of when, how and whom to see

The UnitedHealthcare Vision Network is one of the nation's largest – and growing. Members have the freedom to choose a provider or retailer – whether virtual or in person, national, local, specialty or online – including Warby Parker, GlassesUSA.com or even buying directly from UnitedHealthcare.

Eye health as a window to overall health

Regular eye exams can be critical to early detection of certain diseases. In fact, they can help identify 270 chronic conditions,² including diabetes and hypertension. UnitedHealthcare works to ensure quality, coordinated care for employees.

- Providers are evaluated on quality of clinical and nonclinical care
- Providers are empowered via continuing education courses and more
- The enhanced benefit – including 2 vision visits per year – supports those with frequent vision changes, like pregnant women, children, computer workers and others who may be exposed to a lot of blue light
- The option to integrate UnitedHealthcare medical and vision plans enables data sharing and possible cost savings
- Employees have access to a robust library of educational resources to help them understand their vision plan and the importance vision care is to their overall health

Recognized value for your employees and business

UnitedHealthcare Vision plans were specially designed with both employee and employer needs in mind.

For employees

- Support and engagement tools that may lead to greater network utilization, which may decrease out-of-network costs
- Savings on retail frames and lenses, plus discounts on contact lenses, laser vision correction, blue light screen protectors, hearing aids and more
- More flexibility and convenience with the option to renew eyewear prescriptions virtually through ExpressExam from 1-800 Contacts – at no additional cost*

For employers

- Higher network utilization can also translate to quality care, which may lower health spend
- Bundling vision and medical plans may enable proactive detection of high-cost and chronic conditions while also simplifying administration
- The uBundle® option (medical bundled with dental, vision and/or financial protection products) offers up to 3.5% savings on the medical premium, 3% more than bundling medical and vision alone.
